

6 Multiple choice questions

A+
100%

1. food that contains material derived from an organism that has had its genetic material altered in some way other than by conventional breeding
  - a. composite packages
  - b. head space
  - c. CORRECT: genetically modified
  - d. biodegradable

2. able to be broken down by the action of living organisms such as bacteria
  - a. composite packages
  - b. genetically modified
  - c. head space
  - d. CORRECT: biodegradable

3. food products not prepared in the home
  - a. biodegradable
  - b. head space
  - c. composite packages
  - d. CORRECT: home meal replacements

4. the small amount of space left in all cans and other containers to allow for expansion of the product during heating
  - a. CORRECT: head space
  - b. home meal replacements
  - c. composite packages
  - d. biodegradable

5. a document which sets out the nutritional strategies the company will use when developing food products, conducting research and development and marketing to the consumer
  - a. head space
  - b. CORRECT: corporate nutrition policy
  - c. composite packages
  - d. genetically modified

6. packaging made from two or more different packaging material types which are fused together in a single unit and cannot be separated by the consumer
  - a. CORRECT: composite packages
  - b. home meal replacements
  - c. head space
  - d. biodegradable